e-Learning Tips

*Remember, a student is only considered to have participated in Census by completing the Get Started Module: Orientation Quiz.

Posting a discussion, submitting an assignment or assessment will not count as "attending" if the Orientation Quiz is not complete. Emailing, communicating via Canvas Inbox, or simply logging in do not count as census participation.

Additional Information

If a student has not attended, they will not be withdrawn for having "never attended."

You will however, acknowledge their "never attended," through Self Service.

Remember, this does not withdraw a student. Do not enter a "W" as a grade. They are still registered for your course and should be given a final grade, according to your syllabus. Students who wish to withdraw themselves will need to follow the procedure found on the Course Withdrawals webpage.

Any student not on the class roster at this point has neither registered nor paid for the class. It is too late to add new students to courses.

You may only submit this roster once. Once it is submitted, you cannot make any adjustments. If you realize that you made an error, (such as marking a student as never attended) you need to contact the Registration & Records office to make any corrections (registrar@ocean.edu). Students who choose to withdraw after this point must withdraw online via Ocean Connect.

You will no longer receive a confirmation email when your roster has been submitted.

Submission of final class list rosters is required by the college's auditors in order to verify attendance and payment from the State of New Jersey based on enrollment.

Disregard of this deadline could cause a student's financial aid to be withheld because attendance is not verified. In addition, insurance companies and the IRS conduct spot checks to certify student attendance when parents claim them as dependents.

If you have any questions/concerns regarding your class rosters, please feel free to contact the Office of Registration & Records at registrar@ocean.edu
